This is a written request to extend my taxi vehicle licence.

The reason is because I really need to use this vehicle to do my school run and taxiing. The Car 7 taxi company i work with no longer own any vehicle of their own any more, so this vehicle is the only one available for me to use. I am looking into getting a new taxi vehicle but sadly I don't quite have the right amount of money to buy one just yet.

The car itself is still in good condition. I have been driving it for around 3 years+ now and it still run like the first day i bought it. I just had a new cam-chain fitted a few months ago and my mechanic assure me the car is good for at least another 100,000 miles. Had the MOT done a few weeks ago and pass straight away with only a few minor advisory. Next time i get the car in for a service, i will have a chat with my mechanic about getting those advisory fix.

I am told that a well maintaint BMW can do 300,000+ miles and last more than 15 years. I always service the car and getting it check regularly. I would like to think i have maintain the car quite good and the car is still good to drive for another few more years.

I have attach 5 photos of the car to the email. The interior of the car still looks good with not much wear and tear after 11 years old.

This car suppose to have a 4 monthly inspection impose from last year hearing but I never receive any email from licencing to do so. Normally I would get an email with a web-link whenever my licence/vehicle/DBS is due for renewal, so i assume its the same for the inspection. I'm not quite sure how the inspection work. Is the the same as booking in for a taxi test? When i didn't get an email after the first 4 months, I just assume its not needed anymore. I got it wrong, i should have email licencing and get instruction how to process. I will try and get it right next time.

I am hoping to get the car licence extended as its the only way for me to earn money and pay the bills at the moment. I enjoy being a taxi driver and i can't imagine doing something else.

Thanks,
Andrew Hiew
